

5 five trends

AT FRANK WEBB HOME

Custom Showers

1. Minimalism in Fixtures Today's showers are being designed with a clean, uncluttered look. Sleek, clean lines replace extravagant trims.

2. Matte Blacks & Brushed Golds While polished chrome is still a timeless favorite, many bathroom designers are turning to a subtle use of black and gold, with the matte and brushed textures offering a warmth and richness not seen in more traditional design.

3. Digital Control With smart technology emerging in almost every space in the home, why not incorporate it into your new shower? New controls allow you to enjoy a very personalized showering experience. Some feature thermostats that offer precise temperature control and allow you to coordinate the water pressure of multiple shower functions with the touch of a button. Save time and money when you can immediately deliver the shower you desire with better control.

4. Luxury Shower Sprays Enhance your showering experience with luxury shower spray patterns. Some fixtures allow you to surround yourself with lazy droplets like a summer rain or select a spray option to soothe away stress with massaging pressure.

5. Exposed Shower Pipe While some homeowners just like the look of the exposed shower pipe systems (they are trending now), others appreciate how the exposed pipe allows for different positioning of the showerhead for different height users. This option also requires less plumbing behind the wall.
